Democracy- This means there is control of an organization or group by the majority of its members. At The North School this means being able to contribute and give suggestions to one another. A good example of this would be making decisions as a whole class and being able to contribute and pick who you would think would be a good candidate for student council.

Rule of law- This is about respecting the rules that we have within society as well as in the school. For example such not eating and drinking in the library. Also being well behaved in lessons and wearing the correct uniform.

Individual Liberty- The right or power to act as one chooses. This would mean that being a student you are able to make certain choices for your-self. An example would be being able to join one of the many school clubs which you enjoy. Or selecting where you would like to sit during your break and lunch.

Tolerance and respect for all- Within The North School there are different religions and backgrounds of all kinds. We are tolerant of others and we like to see ourselves as one family. No matter what religion, belief, colour, sex, sexuality, academic ability or age we do not judge or discriminate. There are no students or staff that like or tolerate racism or prejudice in any form.

THE WORLD IS FULL OF NICE PEOPLE, BE ONE OF THEM.....
